AI COMMUNICATION SIMULATOR

Prepare students for conversations that move organizations forward.

Ovation gives business and management students repeatable communication practice with responsive AI participants, faculty-designed assignments, and immediate feedback.

WHY OVATION

Build leadership readiness through practice, feedback, and repetition.

Prepare for high-stakes moments

Build the judgment, composure, adaptability, and executive presence students need to communicate when outcomes matter.

Turn practice into measurable improvement

Students rehearse independently with responsive AI participants, then use recordings, transcripts, and immediate feedback to adjust and try again.

Differentiate your business curriculum

Give your program a distinctive, technology-forward way to build communication readiness while faculty retain control of the roles, context, and success criteria.

APPLIED COMMUNICATION ACROSS THE BUSINESS CURRICULUM

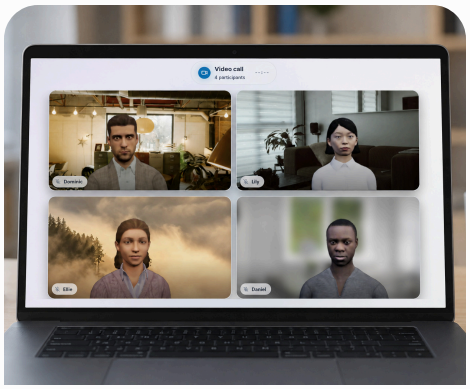
Practice the moments that define careers and leadership.

Present & Persuade

Rehearse keynotes, board updates, investor pitches, and proposals. Respond to questions, defend recommendations, and communicate value with conviction.

Interview & Lead

Prepare to interview or assess candidates, coach performance, deliver feedback, navigate conflict, and lead difficult one-on-one conversations.



Sell & Collaborate

Build trust and alignment in sales calls, discovery meetings, client conversations, team discussions, and remote presentations with AI participants by phone or video.

Make experiential learning repeatable, observable, and easier to scale.

Faculty shape the experience. Students practice independently. Ovation returns recordings, transcripts, feedback, and progress data.

HOW IT WORKS

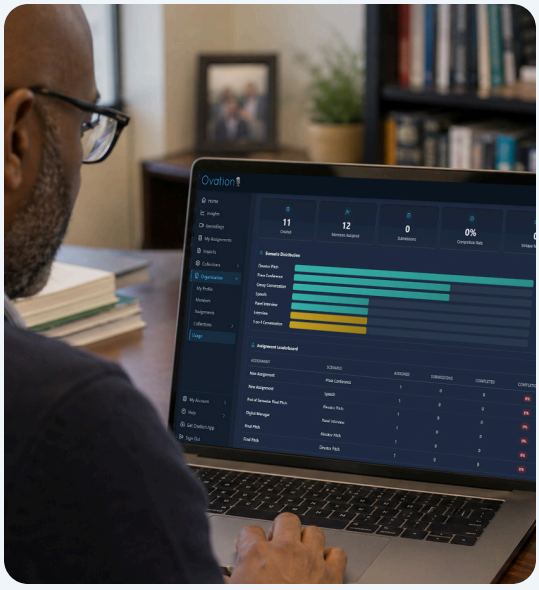
A simple path from course goal to improvement.

01 Define the objective
Choose the business skill, context, audience, and success criteria.

02 Build the assignment
Set the scenario, AI personas, challenge, response behavior, and evaluation criteria.

03 Students practice
Students navigate responsive conversations independently and return as needed.

04 Review the evidence
Review recordings, transcripts, feedback, and progress to guide the next attempt.



FACULTY-DESIGNED PRACTICE

Shape the experience. Review the evidence.

Design the business challenge
Set the role, objective, participants, personas, industry context, and information students need to navigate the conversation.

Define what successful communication looks like
Use included evaluation factors or create course-specific criteria for clarity, listening, questioning, persuasion, negotiation, or executive presence.

Review evidence and guide improvement
Use recordings, transcripts, feedback, and progress data to coach the next attempt and document growth over time.
